The security plan is ongoing and will be re-evaluated and adjusted as needed.

• The PROS Master Plan is expected to be completed at the end of Q2. The department also hired a consultant to look at the organization of the department staffing-wise and leadership-wise. The consultant recommended adding a Deputy Director within the department, which will happen in the first half of 2023.

• In March of 2022, the city conducted an Employee Engagement and Cultural Survey for all the employees. The results for each department were rolled out to department directors. Director, Brooke Bell, held several meetings with PROS staff to share the results including a full department meeting in early January with nearly 300 full-time employees and 80 supervisors and superintendents. Employees in attendance were asked to share their top three priorities to work on for 2023. The three top priorities identified from the meetings were communication, compensation, and career development. This is an ongoing initiative that involves quarterly meetings to share progress made to improve the department and environment for staff.

• The Needs Assessment for Older Adults. This initiative was started as it was promised following the closing of the Morning Star Program. The department has been working with the Commission for Older Adults to develop the scope of work and are expecting to complete the process by the end of 2023 or early 2024.

• Asset Inventory/Conditions Assessment will become the foundation of future works for the department, as it will help understand the cost of maintaining future works and the appropriate timing for capital improvements on the facilities involved for future works as well.

• Water Conservation with ongoing Turf Conversion Projects. The condition on the Colorado River is still dire. Aurora Water will recommend to city council to declare a Stage 1 Drought Condition. PROS is the largest single user of water in Aurora and will be affected by drought restrictions. PROS has an active turf conversion program with a robust drought management plan that will continue to be worked on.

• Financial Sustainability & Fee Study for primarily Recreation, Special Events and Open Space and Natural Resources Divisions. The study will be fast moving to get ahead of the budget season for 2024. The goal is to look at what expenses are versus revenues; which programs are most viable; and what are the costs of running those programs. Recommendations based on the study findings will be brought forward to city council through the budget process.

• Restructure of Recreation Fund. This initiative will also be a priority for the 2023 budget development. Recreation Division is funded approximately 50% by revenues 50% funded the general fund.

• Recreation Division Training, Policies, and Procedure. This initiative is ongoing and will focus on creating consistency in decision making and business practices.

VI. BOARD MEMBERS REMARKS
   A. Comments from Board Members

NOTE: By simple majority vote, Board may re-establish Agenda order. Quorum is reached with five members.
• Member Armstrong asked if an impact analysis report is provided to PROS on the effect of frack wells on the Aurora Reservoir. Brooke responded that is more in the purview of Aurora Water. The city’s Oil and Gas Division are also involved.
• Member Eriksen asked how the Golf Division is funded. Brooke responded it is an enterprise fund, funded solely by revenues earned.
• Member McClure asked what park rangers are focused on. Brooke responded rangers are focused on maintaining compliance of park rules to provide a safe environment for park and trail users. Member McClure suggested signs referencing ranger contact information be placed throughout the parks and trails system. Brooke will follow up with staff.
